SHARP BLADES IN NASHVILLE.

Manager Mahon Fatally Stabbed
for Objecting to a Hotel's Fare.

Judge Brian Seriously Wounded
After Making an Apology.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 1.—Edmund Mahon, property manager of the County Circus Company, playing an engagement in this city, was fearfully cut in the throat last night by Arthur Stanton, son of the hotel-keeper, with whom Mahon was boarding.

Mahon was under the influence of liquor, and had quarreled with a waiter at supper over the food served him. Young Stanton and Mahon got into a row in the office, and Stanton's throat was cut, far beyond successful in risking his life for it, and he died. In the Nugle, of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, he has been dragging along under the torment for weeks. He is probably still suffering severely, and is unfavorable to the posterior little microbes, deeming thus the only cure for its persistent ailment.

Medical assistance was rendered, and after much difficulty the cut was sewed up, and the man removed to the hospital. The wound will probably fatal.

Judge John D. Brian, a lawyer of this city, was stabbed yesterday by A. W. Grissell.

Brian, in the heat of a debate, used harsh language towards Grissell a few days ago, and approached him in a drug store, where he was staying. After this, so Grissell seized him and stabbed him, inflicting a serious but not fatal wound. Grissell is in jail.

Dog Licenses Are Due on May 1. Mayor's Marshal Engelhard gave notice yesterday that dog licenses are due May 1, and unless paid off now before or on that day a penalty will be exacted. Renewal cost $1.10, after May 1, $2.50.

POLICEMEN IN THE TOILS. PARIS BEHIND THE RECORD.

Even Superintendent Byrnes Cannot Cope with the Enemy.

More Than 150 of "the Finest"
Are Suffering from Grip.

Grip seems to have fastened itself on the official at Police Headquarters in earnest.

Supt. Byrnes turned up at his office this morning feeling, as he termed it, "very rocky, indeed," and undecided as to whether he should go out and be punished with another Turkish bath.

Last evening he left Police Headquarters, and, repairing to a bath, submitted to the process for a couple of hours, hoping to rid himself of the grip symptoms, which were tugging at him unmercifully.

It was all to no purpose. This morning he reported for duty after having spent a sleepless night.

He is not the only victim about Police Headquarters. Health Commissioner Esten himself has had, for some little period, a touch of the Russian pest, and the detectives thought they had found the Nitrate King's pet animal. Col. North, of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, has been dragging along under the torment for weeks. He is probably still suffering severely, and is unfavorable to the posterior little microbes, deeming thus the only cure for its persistent ailment.

Arthur Stanton, of the Bureau of Information, went home a week ago today, suffering with influenza, and he has not been able to return to duty since. The wound will probably fatal.

Judge John D. Brian, a lawyer of this city, was stabbed yesterday by A. W. Grissell.

Brian, in the heat of a debate, used harsh language towards Grissell a few days ago, and approached him in a drug store, where he was staying. After this, so Grissell seized him and stabbed him, inflicting a serious but not fatal wound. Grissell is in jail.

About four out of every ten of the menials and employees of the Municipal buildings are complainants of the heavy, oppressive symptoms of grip, and are meditating which is the better plan to pursue, "no home or stick."

There were over 150 policemen reported on the sick list this morning, and at least one-half of these are incapacitated through grip.

Instead of influenza decreasing about Police Headquarters, recent developments demonstrate to the contrary.

Dropped Dead on the Street.

ARCHITECTS TO UNITE.

Paris Ecole des Beaux-Arts Students
Will Form a Club.

American architects who have in recent years attended l'Ecole des Beaux-Arts, at Paris, have decided to form an association here to keep in touch with their alma mater and encourage other architects to study in the French capital.

A formal dinner will be given at the Hotel Martin at 7 o'clock next Monday evening, at which time the association will formally organize. Some twenty or thirty architects from this city and Boston will be present.

There are at present twenty-five American students at the French school, and the number is increasing each year. The course is most thorough, requiring six years to complete. Most of the Americans, therefore, have ever graduated there.
